She also won the pop/rock genre and placed fourth in Hip-Hop/R&B. Nicki G was nominated one of the five finalists in the Yamaha Song Contest. July 1, 05 Nicki was deemed runner-up in Region Idol consisting of Chicagoland contestants, and was interviewed on local TV stations and newspapers. Summer 2005 was booked for Nicki G. She played all over the Midwest leading Georgia Street Band. She also sat in with the TellStars for several gigs and recording sessions, and had the honor to play with Chupito, the percussionist from Santana, and Malo featuring Jorge Santana. Nicki will be featured on their next album covering The Game of Love, and an original Only You. She was also featured at the Chicago Daley Plaza, Pertillo Band Shell where countless stars have performed, and the legendary Apollo Theatre. Fall 2005 was one busy season! Nicki G released Versatility to the public at a very successful CD Release Party. Along with being busy writing and recording her next album, Nicki performed at the Athenaeum Theatre, Chicago with the 3 A Dance Collaborative, a collaboration put together by 3 Chicago dance companies. In April 2005 Nicki was the featured artist for Columbia Colleges Open House held in the Auditorium Theatre. Nicki G was asked to perform "We'll See You in Your Dreams" again at the theatre as the featured artist in Columbia College's Open House representing the entire Music Department. She has since then been asked back each semester since then to represent the Music Department and is performing LIVE at the Auditorium October 28, 2006. Nicki G was, and will be again, backed by a full band, video clips, 70+ person chorus, and the Cerqua-Rivera Dance Company. Winter 05-06 turned out to be very successful. Nicki was asked to be a part of the Chicago based soul band, World Class Noise. Also, she performed in the Region Rumble as a guest star at the Star Plaza Theatre! To wrap up the year, NICKI G VERSATILITY was deemed Top 10 Local music in 2005!!!! 2006 thus far has been very eventful for Nicki. She is currently writing and recording her Sophomore album entitled, Nicole Garza, Nicki G, REINVENTED. Furthermore, she has been performing as the lead singer with the very successful band, World Class Noise, worldclassnoise.com.
