It's a brilliant subject of youth in their young understanding of how life should be. The machine is portrayed as a submarine utilized by United States Navy during the World War II ready to be dismantled. They saved this submarine and made it running in the process, they became hunted by the naval intelligence, the FBI, the police, both in America and Mexico which culminated in the search for Yamashita's Gold in the Paradise Islands of the Philippines to recover ecclesiastical Excalibur sword of power. Deux Ex Machina is a tribute to spiritual sensibilities in an age of enigmatic world. The lyrics and the composition of music melodies portray strong human commitment to decency, kindness, understanding and search for peace in a world of turmoil, lies, and power-grabbing. The purpose that is impressed in each of the songs are reflective of man's search for God and the direction in which our energies, actions, and thoughts are to serve mankind, our neighbors and the preservation of this world as God intended it to be. In the man's search for his true identity on the face of God, he shall be guided by the true spirit of unconditional love, truth, honesty, commitment, and humility.
