Rarely do you find someone in the music industry that will reach out and give you a hand up in the game, this was not the case with Huey and Richardson. Ron G was asked in a recent interview how would you describe your talent and your style of music? Ron replied I think of myself like a conglomerate. Im a rock composed of several different elements. I have a lot of bits and pieces to my style. Ron G says: Im a humble dude, I dont like calling myself real because the word is so fabricated. I call myself authentic. Money? I never really had a lot of, but I learned how to get a dollar. My passion is with music and my ambition is with the world. People say Ron G what does that mean? I love music. Not just hip hop and R&B but I listen to jazz, reggae, contemporary, and even a little country music. My ambition? Well I love people. I feel like I can relate to everyone. I know a little about everything so I feel like I can talk to anyone. My favorite new saying is: I want forever because tomorrows not enough.
