There are no limits on the Les Paul Neo plays, or the sound they generate. Lemo -Keyboards that set the stage for an unyielding rythm of Rock, Funk, and Blues. Lemo also doing vocals sets the stage to let your mind run free, and also touch your emotions. Lemo and Neo met in a fiberglass factory in 1995. They got together and did a bit of recording that was kept on file for over seven years. When some friends got together and listened to the recordings the quest was once again inspired. Lemo and Neo once again went into the studio and decided to record Live, digitally! The reasoning for this is "If you can't do it Live, you can't do it"! We try to capture the magic of the moment. We also play it the way we feel at that time. Our live performance is not the same as the album because we are always experimenting. Give Us A Chance.
