In fact, I wish I had more glamorous words to say about Music that I even not dare call my own, all I can say is that Music is my life and i am hoping you would involve this music in your life, listen to it, enjoy it and by doing that give meaning to mine! A vortex is pulling me inside A sensate experience, Beginning with a mental fixation Powerfully stimulated through the external surroundings My senses merge with every colour and hue, Each sense to a different colour. My emotions scattered like wander dust, A halo hangs enriching all in all with light Complete (sweeping away). Now my mind is one directional, No divisionutterly focused and determined. I can see the infinite in the dark. Moved and excited I stand present An experience of experiences, I am filled with euphoric sensations,

Running electricity in my earthly body which has temporarily left earth. Music.
