A pop/dance track with a hip-hop "edge". 3 MP3 Songs in this album (13:44) ! Related styles: POP: Pop
Details: Just 20 years old Chvell was discovered whilst still 18 on recommendation as a possible substitute as singer for the track Games Lovers Play, eventually to be recorded by artiste Linny. Nevertheless Chvells vocal talent was immediately recognised by Green Pepper Junction and in 2006 they took Chvell into the studio to record Holding on to Nothing but a Handful of Dreams. This was presented at the Midem festival at Cannes, France in January 2007 where Chvell received rave reviews. A second alternative version of the track was recorded and the release date was put on hold until later in the year. The song Holding on to Nothing but a Handful of Dreams was originally written and composed as a gospel song many years ago and though there have been a number of recordings and versions in previous years, none of them have ever been released. There is a video/or dvd to go with Chvells first single. With an album planned for later in 2008. With Chvells voice, looks and personality its looking good for Chvell to have a hit with her first release. Tags: pop
