Details: Craig has been a part of the mid-Atlantic music scene for many years. His songs reflect the diversity of modern American music, blending influences from country, folk, rock and roll, and blues music. The songs on his CD, Road Trips and Relationships, celebrate the beauty of interpersonal relationships and how meaningful relationships help us navigate the challenges of our everyday lives. The road trip songs cast the relationship dynamic against the back drop of the American experience and examine how relationships sustain us as we move from place to place and as we alternate between feeling apart from, and a part of something special. Craig is joined on the CD by a terrific collection of musicians from the mid-Atlantic area. Bob Hume (guitar), John Walker (drums), and Bryan Smith (bass), all hail from northern Virginia and are fixtures in that areas musical scene. Wall Matthews (guitar and keyboards) is one of Craigs closest friends and an accomplished musician with credentials that include releasing 6 solo recordings. Dave Hadley (pedal steel) is a gifted musician who appears live with, and on the recordings of many east coast musicians.
