GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel, GOSPEL: Traditional Gospel Details: I am Tracy Fleming, a resident of Raleigh, NC and I love to sing gospel music. I am originally from Spring Hope, NC where I have sung in choirs and different gospel groups most of my life. I became interested in music at a young age and I learned to play the guitar. I sang in my church choir for years until I went to college at N.C. State University and joined New Horizons Choir for 4 years. Out of that choir, I became a member of ADC, Anointed Daughters in Christ with 5 other girls and our musician (their names are included in my CD!). We did quite a few local engagements, but our most memorable moments were opening for Richard Smallwood on Duke University's campus and appearing on Showtime at the Apollo in New York on two occasions where we won 2nd and 3rd place respectively. Since then, I have worked a lot on my own and preparing the music for this CD and doing some background vocals for my good friend and gospel rapper, Gary Rogers, a.k.a. "Bro. Rogas". During this time, I opened up for the play "Revelations" in Durham, NC along with Bro. Rogas and appeared on the local cable station channel 10 in Raleigh with ADC and Bro. Rogas. I have appeared on a few episodes of Spiritual Awakenings on WRAL TV5 during my college years. This is my first endeavor in making a CD and I pray that with the Lord on my side, who holds my life in His hands will guide me to an abundant career in gospel music. May God richly bless everyone who takes the time to read this and I will be praying for you! Always, Tracy Fleming
