Our high quality standards and socially responsible attitude will set a new precedent in this industry. Our team of Vancouver's finest talents and our unrelenting love for this project will guarantee our success. The Internet is the doorway to consumers for the 21st century and our site is unique on the web; fully interactive, user-friendly and above all a safe place for kids to play. See for yourself at cackleberries.com. As our wonderful characters find a place in their hearts, children will want to take them home. Each and every character has their own favourite music and will share the joy and history of their genre. Our innovative and ethical retail program is designed to help children become savvy consumers. Our ever-expanding toy box will offer merchandise, which will meet parents' approval and excite the young shoppers. Oville is a place where children can enjoy old-fashioned innocence and wonder. Our stories are non-violent, non-threatening and full of fun and adventure. We teach children in a very subtle way about emotions, hard ones and easy ones. All children love music. It is the key to their hearts and Cackleberries will bring them the best of the best. We are introducing this new generation to all music: from rap to classical, from country to rock. The music of Oville includes every genre and it will be brought to life through animated music videos, CD's and down-loadables. We are the Next Big Thing!!!
