I've been playing guitar since I was nine, and have been writing since I was eighteen. Growing up I listened and still do to iron maiden, metallica, priest and so on. When I turned twenty I bought a ovation acoustic and a four track and started writing and recording original songs. A few years later I started jamming with a few friends we called ourselves "Cold Black Coffee". We did alot of stuff from neil young, america, tragically hip, eagles and so on. We played around the Cambridge, Kitchener/Waterloo area for six years. We gave it up to have our families. Last year I got back into my music. I bought some new recording eqiupment and started writing and recording my new cd called "The Winds Will Come Once Again". It's a cd about the issues in today's world. We have war, poverty, global warming and so on. We have to come together and try to solve these problems. Everything on this cd was done by me 100. All the recording, music, vocals, producing, mixing, mastering and the artwork, all done by me. I tried to get people to help me with it but no one had any time. I was very pleased with the outcome. I hope you are too and support my music. Thank you. Kindest regards Glenn Murphy
