From the mountains to the sea, the beautiful sounds of nature, combined with relaxing music. 7 MP3 Songs KIDS/FAMILY: Kid Friendly, NEW AGE: Environmental Details: Sound Journey: The Natural Sounds of Georgia - Steve follows the sounds of nature all over the beautiful state of Georgia, from the trickling stream in the north Georgia mountains that becomes the mighty Chattahoochee River, to the Okefenokee Swamp. Listen for the grumbling of the alligator in the reeds on Harris Neck, and the cicadas in full song on a hot summer's evening along the Chatooga River. Other locations are Tybee Island, Brasstown Bald and the Alcovy River Greenway. Steve Hulse is a Montana-born composer who has worked with Henry Mancini, Merv Griffin and the London Philharmonic Orchestra. He has written music for projects as diverse as "WKRP in Cincinnati" and an Academy Award-nominated documentary, "Building Bombs." Besides writing music for his CDs, he composes music for documentaries and feature films, TV and new media. Steve Hulse records his own nature sounds; and all his healing and meditation music is original - composed, recorded and produced by Steve. He knows that in our western culture, there are styles of music that we are familiar with and that make us feel good. So while he strives to ensure the music does everything it should for the body, mind and spirit, he also strives to make sure the music is enjoyable, providing movement and interest to the melodies and harmonies, that the listener won't be put to sleep with an incessant (and usually meaningless) drone found in other relaxation CDs on the market. Customers listen to Steve's CDs while they read, drive, entertain friends, meditate, make love, work, exercise...live. All his music comes from the heart, with the intent to help you relax, feel better and receive more joy from your life.
