Does the prospect of being able to make big time cash on the Internet without even having a product sound good to you? Would you like to make money simply sending traffic to someone else's website while letting them do all the hard work? Maybe you'd just like to make a little bit of extra dough on the side to supplement your income. Whatever your situation might be, you are in for a real treat when you see what's available to you right now in my new... Affiliate Director 2.0 Your Complete Super Affiliate Control Center Dear Friend, If you are at all interested in affiliate marketing and want a way to break into profit easily and with a bang, you are certainly at the right place. There's no question that you've heard about all of the money that "other people" have made promoting other people's products on the Internet. It's an extremely enticing thing even to think about. After all, who doesn't want to make a boat load of money by selling a product that isn't even their own? We all want to! Best of all, there are so many digital products out there that offer high commission that you can make more than the product creator in most cases! That's right! The standard in affiliate commission for most digitally delivered products is 50 of the profit and up. That means that after the cost of credit card processing that you actually get MORE of the profit than the creator of the product. And that doesn't even factor in the fact that the product creator is solely responsible for hosting charges to deliver and maintain the product, support to the customer and updating the product! Being an affiliate is one heck of a deal as I'm sure that you'll agree! But there has been a problem for people like you and I that want to become big time affiliates and make big money online. Actually it's more like... The 7 Affiliate Marketing Kisses Of Death... Kiss Of Death #1 - Nasty URL's You know exactly what I'm talking about. Those long, disgusting looking URL's that scream "All I care about is the money". These might jog your memory a little bit... hop.clickbank.net/xxxx/xxxx Or here's one that might make you gag... xxxxxxx.com/t.cgi/767631 Now, do those kind of links really make you want to click on a link? We all know that is just a tracking code and the only reason that the person is asking you to go there is to make money off of you. Now you can turn This: hop.clickbank.net/?xxxx/xxxx Into This:

xxxxxxxxxx.com/a/plrtips Or This: xxxxxxxxxx.com/t.cgi/767631 Into This:

xxxxxxxxxx.com/a/InternetMarketing Kiss Of Death #2 - Not Measuring Your Traffic Most "would be" affiliates out there never even think to measure how many hits that they are sending to a particular affiliate site. This can mean sudden death when it comes to spending money to send traffic to a website! The best affiliates in the business know exactly what's going on in terms of how much traffic they are sending to an affiliate site. You better follow in their footsteps if you don't want to lose your butt in wasted advertising dollars right out of the gate! Kiss Of Death #3 - Lack Of Centralization Of Your Affiliate Program Information This is one of the major reasons that most people don't make more money when promoting affiliate programs online. They don't have the information for all of their affiliate programs in one place. If you don't have your login URL's, your usernames and passwords all in one central place, it's very hard (sometimes impossible) to find them. It's vital that you centralize all of your affiliate data if you want to be able to access everything quickly. Let's face it, we all know that if we can't easily find an affiliate programs login information, we just aren't going to spend the tons of time it takes to search for the affiliate site, find a login page, locate the lost password and username feature, reset our password, login and change our password again, etc... That means less money! Kiss Of Death #4 - Losing Money By Not Conversion Crunching If Kiss Of Death #2 wasn't bad enough, if you aren't tracking how many people buy and checking your conversion rate, you could be sending traffic to a dead duck! Do you really want to send all of YOUR valuable traffic to a site that ISN'T converting them into visitors? I'm willing to bet that you don't but the truth is, most affiliate marketers totally kill their chance at success by not tracking conversions! This one simple tactic can make you or break you! Kiss Of Death #5 - Letting Other People SEE & REPLACE Your Affiliate ID!!! This is probably the biggest affiliate marketing epidemic to hit the market since online affiliate marketing was introduced. It's called commission hijacking! What this means is a "would be" customer (a visitor you sent to a site through your affiliate link) sees that an affiliate ID is present in the URL and then replaces it with their own! That means that you don't get paid a cent and THEY get the commission their own purchase screwing you and getting the product for half price. This Is Your Affiliate Link: hop.clickbank.net/?xxxx/xxxx This Is Your HIJACKED Affiliate Link: hop.clickbank.net/?xxxx/xxxx What a rip! That is why you need to be using this AD2 Link: xxxxxxxxx.com/a/plrtips If you aren't preventing this, you could very well be losing upwards of 35 of your total affiliate sales! Yikes! Kiss Of Death #6 - Not Having "At A Glance" Monthly & Yearly Statistics To Quickly Look At On top of tracking your visitors and your traffic you also need to be able to spot trends. Most people in affiliate marketing don't even care about trends but the very few that do are the ones that you see consistently at the top of the affiliate contests leader boards and making hundreds of thousands of dollars a year without their own product. This is something that takes you from "little $1,000 a month Sal (or Sally)" to "big time $25,000 a month Chris (or Christina)". Kiss Of Death #7 - Jumping Into The Affiliate Marketing Game Blind Without A Plan This is probably the single biggest factor that kills any chance a potential affiliate has of seeing success out there. There are enough pitfalls (as you can see from the examples above) out there to hold you back without a proper start holding you back from even getting moving. You absolutely need to have a system you can follow, even if it's just a simple one that lays out exactly what you need to do to get started. Life After The 7 Kisses Of Death... After weighing all of things above, the outlook for you becoming a successful affiliate marketer seems pretty grim doesn't it?
