Also, husband and producer of Hit recording artist Sunny Hawkins. We want to thank you 4 checking Amar Khalil out. Enjoy! "AMAR KHALIL"

Oakland, California native Amar Khalil has come into his own in 2005 debuting a new album and musical artistry - a neo-soul, inspirational style that blends classic R&B and a little gospel, a touch of funk and a modest bit of hip hop with a whole lot of silky smooth soul. An accomplished singer who can handle lead and background vocals and improvisation equally well, Amar is an all-around talent as a songwriter, musician, dancer and actor. His rich vocal blends generally favor a very lyrical and introspective rhythm and blues, soulful approach reminiscent of his childhood favorites Donny Hathaway, the Jackson 5 and Stevie Wonder. "...a fine blend of gospel, R&B and soul that includes excellent original material" Amar's debut album, Where There's A Will There's A Way, is wrought with a smooth style and robust beats that make him a Bay Area favorite. His work celebrates fine songwriting and boasts a flavorful, tantalizing sound that will engage listeners with every riff and chorus. His silky tones continually surprise listeners with just enough edge to keep them moving to the beat. Without question, he is an artist who cannot be categorized in just one genre as, just when you think you've discovered his niche; he switches directions from contemporary to funk or R&B to hip hop-flavored gospel. With the 2005 release, Where There's A Will There's A Way, has already received wide acclaim with plans to begin a US promotional tour in early 2006 Where There's A Will There's A Way is an inspirational and classy debut from this newcomer. This is only the first of many more to come. A bonafide musical prodigy, Amar polished his strong vocal skills while touring the world singing with his accomplished high school choir, "The Castleers." He solidified his professional musical relationship with the Bay Area music scene with repeat performances in the internationally acclaimed San Francisco musical revue, "Beach Blanket Babylon" and collaborations with some of the best and most successful entertainers in the music industry including background vocals, choreography and touring with Con Funk Shun member and successful solo artist, Michael Cooper and top female group En Vogue. He has done session work with Foster/McElroy of 2-Tuff-Enuff Productions, jazz saxophonist J. Spencer, Dwayne Wiggins of Tony Toni Ton, Raphael Saadiq, rap artist Richie Rich and a host of other performers. Amar has played clubs, concerts and festivals and has toured extensively throughout the US, Canada, and Japan. Amar has been with the Tony's since 1997 and has recently completed an 18-month tour as lead vocalist of the platinum-plus group, Tony Toni Ton, receiving rave reviews in Japan and the US and appearances on the BET Soundstage, the House of Blues and many other venues. Amar's vocal magic and distinctive musical approach has continued to evolve and these days, his tight harmonies and tasteful repertoire are winning over fans across the country. "He has revealed himself as an eloquent interpreter of time and emotions engaging listeners on each Where There's A Will There's A Way track."
