DK's interest in music started at the tender age of seven when he would often entertain family and friends with "raps" that he wrote while watching television in the Den of his home, in Baltimore, Maryland. In 1999,at the age of 13, "DK" began to take music more seriously and you could always find him in a corner somewhere composing lyrics to songs and beats that he would hear on the radio. The music from DK's first CD, "That's My Boy", blasted the airways throughout the Billboard R&B/Hip Hop Awards and Conference,in South Miami Beach, Florida, during the summer of 2003. The fall of 2005 finds "DK" hosting and performing for the first 2005-2006 school year Juke Joint, at the Nyumburu Cultural Center, on the campus of the University of Maryland College Park. There,DK will perform songs from his upcoming CD, "The Firelane Project", due out in the fall of 2005. Some of DK's musical influences include Tupac, Notorious Big, Jay-Z, Will Smith and Slick Rick. While not a "Hardcore Lyricist," DK can spit metaphorical rhymes with the best of them, often punishing challengers and "Wanna Be's" with his witty "Free-Styles." DK has appeared with Slum Village, The Clipse, Cee-Lo, Raheem DeVaughn, Fertile Ground and others. DK, a very gifted lyricist and songwriter is currently penning songs to be placed with major R&B, Pop and Hip/Hop artist through the publishing arm of Wayne Watts Music Publishing and Jhirdana Music. DK is scheduled to perform with various artist and MCs this year along the Mid-Atlantic. See him live at a venue near you. DK's debut album features guest artists "Low" Wells, "Briana", Nicole "Meezy" Queen, Michael"MDT" Thompson, Justin Brown, Christopher Dandridge, James Carter and Ashley "Fat-Man" Bessick.
