Lush Swedish indiepop, with heartfelt lyrics and strings. Fans of Jens Lekman, The Magnetic Fields, and Sarah Records will be certain to appreciate. 12 MP3 Songs POP: Swedish Pop/Rock, POP: Twee Pop
Details: Juni Jrvi want to give you a soundtrack to the shiny spring days, the long and warm summer nights and the rainy days of the fall when you wish time could move faster. Music for falling in love, music for dancing, music for crying. Thats all Juni Jrvi want to do really: write epic pop songs. Here's what Simon Tagestam of itsatrapthinks: "... lush and beautiful with absolutely gorgeous melodies. 'Falling down like snow' is one of the best, sounding a bit like the theme song from Twin Peaks; an atmosphere that runs through a lot of the songs here. There are also some poppier Jens Lekman-esque tracks on the album, all being magnificent and they serve as a nice break from the slower, sadder songs. Its for albums like this I listen to music, I urge you to seek it out, sooner than later" - Simon Tagestam, itsatrap.com And from Pop 'n Cherries: "Simply beautiful melodic songs with a great warm voice and maybe a kind of retro/old fashioned flavour. The atmospheric elements and the apparent melancholy of the songs render this record as an original soundtrack for an imaginary movie."
