But more importantly, he has developed a rich inner life that reflects in his music. Norman trained in piano and organ during his youth. Later, he jumped into the digital world of synthesizer music, where he could unlock potentials for choices in instrument, rhythm, and emotion. He now resides in northern California, composing with a rich array of authentic and synthesized sounds. This album is for the young child (or for the parent!). It starts with music that attracts happy attention, then slowly changes pace until the mood is tranquil and sleep-inducing.
