An eclectic intermingle of pop, r&b, and jazz stylistic of Stick and Toto 10 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Soft Shake URBAN/R&B: R&B Pop Crossover I Can't Believe Songs Details: "I Can't Believe" is the debut CD from 26west. A propose that comes from Northwest artists Danny Boyle (vocals) and Barry Aiken (keyboards). This grown present-day act intermingles Pop, R-n-B and Jazz into their original material. Barry, originally from Trail B.C., Canada and Danny from Portland, Oregon brought their musical abilities together in 1990. Forming a fast friendship and a unique musical style all their own. 'The writing process made this recording a lot of fun. I would hand Danny what I thought was close to a complete tune, a couple of days later Danny would walk in phrasing melody lines over the music in ways I never would have tried'. Barry Aiken 'Rarely did we disagree with each other's musical input: although occasionally I could tell by the look on Barry's face, I was a little too original'. Danny Boyle The name 26west was born out of sheer monotony, as this is the road driven (mostly by Danny), some 30 miles each way to Bare Mic studios where the propose was recorded. Barry and Danny had some great musicians lend their talents to this propose, Erick Hailstone, Cal Scott, Mike Snyder, Rob Manning, Tom Teutsch, Jeff Leonard, Danny Schauffler, Sandin Wilson, Joe Plass and Elissa Stafford. This CD propose has strictly been a labor of love for Barry and Danny. They hope you will enjoy the material and know there is still fresh music being created by 26west.
