Pop-Rock and romantic songs from a Hungarian-Danish-American musical heart 11 MP3 Songs POP: 70's Pop, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: We Can Be Forever Young! This is everything that a song needs to be. It brought me back to a time when I felt secure and happy. The melody was so original and memorable I almost fell off my chair, The verse is so singable, not to mention the segue to the best chorus on numberonemusic. The production was flawless till the end. The mix had the right amount of everything so i didnt have to look for it. I honestly think this is a monster smash by a great original artist. Hunt this down now! Luke  Our Review After reviewing some of the tracks on this latest composition, we can safely say that once again Atilla has outdone himself by showing us he can cover virtually any type of music on cue. With a modest, but not overbearing touch of the orient on his latest masterpiece, we were very impressed with it's style. With this latest, he brings forth yet another side of his soul never revealed before, and puts it in to a melodic trance we can all appreciate. On this latest CD he also introduces us to a new talent. Her name is Chanett Kolds, and she has one of those voices you can easily get used to listening to. We hope that maybe in the future the 2 of them can pair up and pssibly record some duets together. We are sure with Attila's ability to cover many octave ranges, and Chanett with her soft sensual voice, can open yet another chapter in this fine composer's book. Well done Attila, Keep up the good work. On-Nation Weekly Free Press Composers World  BIO Five years old he began to read notes and play the accordion - Hungarian, Czechoslovakian and German folk music, as well as international evergreens. In1972, he was studying classical flute and piano at Budapest Conservatory in Hungary for five years. After graduating, instead of classical music he picked up the guitar and played pop rock music in various bands. In 1975 passed an exam in a school of Entertaining on Piano. Again as a keyboard-player he was on the road for 10 years in western-Europe with different groups (playing Rock, Country, R&B, Pop, Entertaining music). In 1984 settled down in Denmark, where in 1988 had a daughter, Marie He makes living by entertaining at private parties, and in the sparetime by composing music.
