New York City rock band mining influences from both sides of the Atlantic, creating an infectious blend of dark pop, rock, and anthemic ethereal musings. 11 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock, POP: British Pop

Details: Formed in New York City, in the year of 2001, Pure Dream Ladder has all the signs of true greatness: excellent songs, outstanding musicianship, powerful live presence and possession of an inner radar always steering them in the right musical direction. They have been likened by some critics to, "...Travis, The Doves, Coldplay and The Verve to name a few, notwithstanding the occasional Spiritualized nod..." Trying to describe their style isn't easy, because their sound is very much their own. PDL's music is produced by the band along with rock-soundscapeer Bryce Goggin (Pavement / Spacehog / Evan Dando/ The Ramones) at Bryce's studio, Trout Recording, in Brooklyn, NY. The New York Press described the band in late 2003: "Puredreamladder has a keen understanding of how arrangements and production can turn a tired cliché into something unique. How using unexpected combinations without losing sight of a good melody leads to a song being catchy yet not shallow and formula-like. Maybe they're a rock band with a pop sensibility, maybe it's the other way around - you'll have to listen and make up your own mind. Basically they're moving between different genres without effort, picking out the best parts and piecing them back together in a new, unexpected and most enjoyable fashion." In short: Pure Dream Ladder is finally getting the recognition they deserve, both from fans and music industry alike, and luckily at a time when the band is more prepared than ever to make the most of it.
