If you think it's impossible to sing jazz in Italian, listen to this... passion and sensuality meet American jazz rhythm and brightness 13 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Jazz Vocals, JAZZ: Smooth Jazz Details: She was born in Buelach (Switzerland) in 1965, since then she's been singing (professionally since 1988) and lately also composing. Some of the beautiful people she has personally learned from: Sheila Jordan, Tiziana Ghiglioni, Nat Adderley, Benny Golson, Reverend Lee Brown and well, if you want to know all of them, please, go to her website and read the whole list:o) Some of the nice words they wrote about her: Patrick Arena from Southern Voice: Full of light, the Italian Cartolari caresses jazz, improv, blues and swing with the aplomb of a seasoned artist. Her voice is welcoming and generous. With a musical attitude that transmits vocal joy, she weaves her happy way through standards and originals. Twolips as a whole sounds bright and spontaneous and makes you want to hear her work in a live performance. Frank Rubolino from Cadence: Cartolari is a sultry, multi-lingual vocalist who sings to the accompaniment of a strong piano/trumpet/bass Jazz trio on. In any language, she comes across as a congenial artist who fits that elusive definition for a jazz singer. They all come together in a very pleasing excursion of familiar and new songs that showcase Cartolari as a fine vocal talent. It is nicely done." Some of her bands and festivals she's sung at: 1990/2004 "Sandra Cartolari/Giovanni Ceccarelli duo" : Jazz aus Italien Jazz und Weltmusik im Englischen Garten Salon de la chanson im Bellevue Teehaus in Englischen garten (Berlin) 1994/95 "The Swing Alligator" (with Franco Valussi, Glauco Venier, Slatko Kaucic and Andrea Massaria) 1994/96 "Kassandra Band" (with Stefano Calzolari, Stefano Cappa, Adriano Molinari) - first prize at the first " Festival Canoro Città di Modena" 1995/2004 "Sandra Cartolari/Simone Guiducci duo" 1997/98 "Swingo" (with Giampiero Martirani, Mario Parisini, Glauco Zuppiroli, Andrea Burani) 1997/2004 "Freedom Family" (trio, choir) directed by Reverend Lee Brown: Politeama Genovese Palasport
