Influenced by everything from Bossa Nova to New Order, Sunshine State brings an infectious acoustic sound and hook filled songs to follow a single young woman's search for love in the city. With exotic Panamanian/Norwegian beauty, and a personality that shines through every song, Aleza's unique vocal style has drawn comparisons to Amy Winehouse, Blossom Dearie, and Feist. Meanwhile, James is one of Canada's top guitarists and an award winning producer and songwriter, with a hand in over a million albums sold, and over 30 top 40 radio hits, working with artists including: Nelly Furtado, Fefe Dobson, Divine Brown and the Philosopher Kings. Sunshine State's self titled debut was recorded in Toronto at James' studio over the second half of 2006, and turned all the ups and downs of Aleza's daily life into musical inspiration. With her crystal clear voice and James' soulful and dynamic acoustic guitar as the core, the duo were joined by some of their most talented friends to flesh out the band. Marc Rogers, one of Canada's top bassists (Susan Tedeschi,Philosopher Kings) and a virtuoso in his own right , brings a low end warmth to the album with his acoustic bass , while percussionists David Gouveia and Daniel Stone add a funky latin flavour to the tracks .Another friend , top session and touring drummer Davide Direnzo has a guest spot on a track. As producer and mixer , James Bryan added some gritty drum programming to balance the organic feel of the band , making the album a seamless marriage of old and new. The single Day Job is an anthem for nine-to-fivers everywhere, while Drugdealer (A Love Song) take a humorous look at the uncomfortable scenario of dating someone with a less than savory job. Booty Call delves into the things we do for lust, while Thank You(for Leaving) is a perfect kiss-off to an ex whos unworthy . Each song tells a story , one that weve all been through , or can relate to .
