Written by Lindsay Tanner whose parliamentary career spans 18 years, culminating in his position as the minister for finance and deregulation in the Rudd Gillard governments this edited selection of his press articles, speeches, and occasional essays discusses a range of major subjects. From 1990 to 2012, this book delves into Labors problems and prospects; globalization and its discontents; facing up to important values; the need for compassion; and lessons from Tanners own life. Whether the subject matter be economic, political, or personal, this account demonstrates what Australia lost when Tanner departed from national politics.
