From its beginnings in the 1880s, opalescent glass has enjoyed a widely receptive audience, both in England where it was introduced and here in America where a young but growing market was ready for any touch of brightness and beauty for the hearth and home. Glass authorities Bill Edwards and Mike Carwile, who have written books on carnival and pressed glass and Millersburg crystal, have once again teamed up to present an all-new fourth edition on the ever-popular opalescent glass. Glass production by both American and English glass companies from 1880 to 1930 is once again covered in this volume. With almost 200 new patterns featured, this expanded edition now holds over 760 color photographs. Detailed information on several prominent glass manufacturers is again included, and the attached price guide has been enlarged to include hundreds of patterns and colors - nearly 6,000 pieces in six different colors are evaluated. Standard Encyclopedia of Opalescent Glass, Fourth Edition, is sure to shine on your bookshelf.
