Twenty songs from this country music hall of famer, never heard before. 20 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Honky Tonk, COUNTRY: Traditional Country Details: When he passed away last year, Country Music Hall of Famer Hank Thompson left a recording career that spawned seven decades and amassed over 60 million sold recordings. He captured virtually every award that the industry could present to him including the coveted spot in the Nashville Songwriters Hall of Fame and the Country Music Hall of Fame as well. Treasures-Unreleased 1950s Recordings By Hank Thompson And The Brazos Valley Boys brings to light a remarkable time in the career of Hank Thompson. This new album on Heart of Texas Records contains twenty songs that were recorded by Hank in his home studio in Oklahoma featuring one of the most versatile grouping of the Brazos Valley Boys. One of Hanks first projects after his move to Oklahoma City in 1952, was to buy a state of the art Ampex tape recorder and set up a recording studio in his home, Thompsons biographer Warren Kice said. Hank and his band were able to practice and perfect the songs before the final recordings were made at the Capitol Studio. A great majority of the songs that were prerecorded at Hanks house were ultimately recorded in the Capitol studio and released. But there were twenty songs that were recorded that didnt see the light of day until Hank Thompson Treasures. Thompson wrote fourteen of the songs on Hank Thompsons Treasures including Youre Too Young To Cry Now I Know Exactly How You Feel Harbor Of Love You Cant Put That Monkey On My Back Love Is Where You Find It I Could Love The Devil Out of You and Meet Me On The Corner. He also turned to his long time writing friends Weldon and Hathcock to contribute Whipporwill Lane A Fool And His Dreams Everybodys Crazy and Maple On The Hill. Hank had worked on this songs in the past and even thought about releasing them, Ann Thompson, Hanks widow, said. He just decided that the time was not right.

After he passed away, Warren and I felt that these recordings were so great that we wanted Hanks fans to hear them. We also wanted Heart of Texas Records and Tracy Pitcox to be the one to put out these treasures. Thompsons voice is at his prime. During these recordings, Thompson was the engineer, producer, guitarist and vocalist all at the same time. These twenty songs would compare to any of Thompsons Capitol recordings from the same era. It is truly a mystery why they were not recorded for release on Capitol. The Brazos Valley Boys on these recordings include Billy Gray on Rhythm Guitar, Bobbie White and Pee Wee Whitewing on Steel Guitar, Amos Hedrick, Bob White and Curly Lewis on Fiddles, Paul McGhee on Drums, Billy Stewart on Bass, Gill Baca and Donny McDaniel on Piano, Dubert Dobson on Trumpet and Hank Thompson on Lead Guitar. Hank was working on a new project for Heart of Texas Records before he became ill, Heart of Texas Records President Tracy Pitcox said. We did not have the opportunity to finish the album before he passed away. I was so excited when Ann retrieved these great treasures from their attic. I was amazed at the quality of these recordings. It is amazing that after fifty years, we have a new Hank Thompson project.
