Their instruments sing about little happy moments, and discoveries of small wonder. Their songs are about simple everyday events but will really touch your heart. How this album was recorded This album was recorded in MIYAJIMA Migiwa(miggy)'s living room in the suburbs of Tokyo on fine, early December days. We sat talking on a sofa in the warm room with a beautiful sunshine streaming through the windows, and when we got tired we took breaks and had coffee and cookies. The recordings went on like that. Unlike recording in sound-proof studios, we sometimes had to wait for rowdy elementary students passing by outside the windows, and we happened to record birds singing in the garden. There were many unbelievable happenings, but all these add to the atmosphere we have packaged into this CD. We hope you will enjoy our music together with the unusual atmosphere in which it was recorded. CD200512CD(hitme&miggy
