Details: From the streets of Riverdale, New York to Scotlands Edinburgh Fringe Festival; from the Troy Savings Bank Music Hall (one of five reputedly acoustically perfect spaces in the world)to the world famous Bitter End, the drive to distill experience into words and music has taken this singer/songwriter on a wide-ranging journey. Larry Oakes, Founder of Singer/Songwriter Sessions NYC said, "Joe Travers (is) truly a classic Singer/Songwriter. His storytelling through colorful lyrics, melody and choruses leaves you anxious for the next chapter. Refreshingly keeping the 'old school' alive... Joe has a large catalogue of songs, touching on themes as varied as the spirit of America, veterans' issues, modern physics, coming of age, the Greek myths, love and loss, and the hero within. His sound blends the genres of acoustic pop, Americana, folk, Celtic and country. (Think Marc Cohn and Alison Krauss meeting James Taylor and Dougie Maclean for a Guinness). He is a member of ASCAP and the Songwriters Hall of Fame. His compositions have also been heard scoring dance concerts and plays across the U.S.
