

Employment Deconcentration In European Metropolitan Areas

DOWNLOAD HERE

Contributing authors. Preface.- - Chapter 1: Introduction: deconcentration of economic activities within metropolitan regions: a qualitative framework for cross-national comparison: Eran Razin.- - Chapter 2: Economic deconcentration in a rational planning system: the Dutch case: Annet Bogaerts et al.- - Chapter 3: Deconcentration of workplaces in Greater Copenhagen: successes and failures of location strategies in regional planning: Peter Hartoft-Nielsen.- - Chapter 4: Economic deconcentration processes in mid-sized English cities: deconcentrated outcomes and spatially differentiated impacts: Ian Smith.- - Chapter 5: The Spanish way to economic deconcentration: a process of several speeds: Manuel Valenzuela et al.- - Chapter 6: The Italian way to deconcentration. Rome: the appeal of the historic centre. Chieti-Pescara: the strength of the periphery: Armando Montanari et al.- - Chapter 7: Deconcentration in a context of population growth and ideological change: The Tel-Aviv and Beer-Sheva metropolitan areas: Eran Razin and Arie Shachar.- - Chapter 8: Sprawling post-communist metropolis: commercial and residential suburbanisation in Prague and Brno, the Czech Republic: Ludek Skora and Martin Ouredncek.- - Chapter 9: The impact of retail deconcentration on travel to hypermarkets in Prague: Yaakov Garb.- - Chapter 10: Employment deconcentration in European metropolitan areas: a comprehensive comparison and policy implications: Martin Dijst and Carmen Vzquez. EAN/ISBN : 9781402057625 Publisher(s): Springer Netherlands Format: ePub/PDF Author(s): Razin, Eran - Dijst, Martin - Vzquez, Carmen

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals:

Employment Deconcentration In European Metropolitan Areas