Power-folk Details: Backed by a handful of local hotshots from the Boise music scene, Billy G. Camp emerges with his debut CD entitled, Dont Stop The Carnival, which he has dubbed a unique Alt.

Country-Folkadelic experience. Drawing from influences as diverse as: Gram Parsons, John Prine, Tom Waites, and Jimmy Buffett, this singer-songwriter takes you on a LO-FI joyride through an eclectic sonic landscape with a rough-around-the-edges yet passionate delivery. Born and raised in upstate South Carolina, Billy G. Camp grew up with music all around him. In the late 80s and 90s, he was a regular on the SC music scene as a bass player for several local rock acts including one that received regional attention during the mid-90s. Currently based in Boise, ID, he returns with a catchy, feel-good collection of songs that grows on you like kudzu and is bound to leave you reeling from a foot-stompin good time!
