Humberto Gmez Vera (English)"Yo sigo siendo cubano" is a project dreamed by my long time ago and after 8 years to live outside I travel to my country (Cuba) to meet with old friends and record these 8 song , surrounded by a good , good moment, memories of youth, friendship and good music. For that reason I want to thank to all they, old and new friends who collaborated in fact of a special way in this dream turned in reality. To them and all the friends of the world the subject "ENTRE AMIGOS" was dedicated. Humberto Gmez Vera When seeing another record labeled "Cuban All Stars" at the local shop, it?s important to proceed with caution! These recordings often cover the same body of music, endlessly, using the same arrangements. Why? A longing for a simpler, happier time, that never really happened? Not this record! Humberto?s stint with "Estrellas De Ritmo" (the legendary Son group) on bass as a teenager, to his song "Oro Verde" recorded by Omara Portundo in the 70?s, to his work as a writer and arranger with the Cuban National Television for over 15 years, to his moving to Europe, have all led to this particular recording that you now hold in your hand. Humberto, back in Havana, recording with old friends, who for the last 15 years or so have been working setting the pace of modern Cuban music. Cesar Lopez, Jorge Reyes, and Chicoy from Irakere, and Emilio Morales from NG La Banda, plus the phenomenal young congero Oliver Valdez, and a few other surprise guests. Modern Cuban music, in the tradition. Brant Tilds Director, Copenhagen University Latin Ensemble Copenhagen University, Music Institute
