Spoken word lyrics performed by Margarita Kovats with visually-evocative hypnotic music. A Chimera - a blend of rock, electronica and vocals. If nothing else, listen to She Said, with all vocals performed by Margarita. 9 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes, SPOKEN WORD: With Music Details: "...eclectic music, followed by poetic lyrics that take the listener to a new plane of consciousness..." The Cape Fear Collegian "...powerful sound and inspiring lyrics...." Henk Postma/ Paclax, The Netherlands "...Jessica's Attic takes you on a journey whose only boundaries are that of your own self consciousness...." Gary Vollano, IndependDisc Music Club 'Zine Starting as a collaboration between Tom Aragon and Margarita Kovats, the duo released a ten song cassette as Looking Glass, called Out of the Lair. Cassettes are still available by contacting margarita@darkrecords.net. After that release, the name was changed to Jessica's Attic. Jessica's Attic first release was a ten song CD, the Necromancer (also available on CDBaby!). Who is the Necromancer? What is this mysterious attraction that his apprentice feels as they delve into the Dark Arts? As they work side by side, we're almost voyeurs to her thoughts and feelings. Her voice speaks to us of her dark fascination, her moods, her musings. Her vehicle is her poetry, and it takes us with her, with the music ranging from rock, to ethereal, to electronic. David Sherwood Hayden joined Jessica's Attic after several live performances with Tom and Margarita. Dave's rhythmic instincts bring a new element to the music. Clark Hayden rounds out the sound by bringing both rhythmic guitar riffs and unexpected atmospheric effects having a very un-guitarlike sound. Clark's eclectic musical taste and experience flavors the electronic aspect with a melodic, live performance warmth. The band has enjoyed radio airplay internationally, and on local public and college radio. Jessica's Attic songs have been included in two compilation CDs.
