DOWNLOAD HERE

Join Roesy for an intimate, heart warming evening of song recorded live at world famous Spirit Store in Dundalk, Ireland. 9 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, POP: Folk Pop Details: "Roesy has a relaxed, gentle-voiced singing style that evokes shades of Nick Drake without sacrificing its own originality" (The Evening Herald) "Tender-hearted Irish singer/songwriters are two a cent but Roesys the best of the lot" (RTE Guide) "...armed with a crystalline pair of vocal chords..." (Irish Times) I got the music predominantly from my Fathers side of the family. My first memories of music are from home. I remember when I was about 8 yrs old singing Fats Domino songs into an old tape recorder and listening to my Dad play clarinet at night from my bedroom. Later on I begun to keep notebooks of bits of poems and phrases, they turned into songs when I taught myself to play guitar at around 15 years of age. From there it has been my life ever since, and has taken me to lots of wonderful people and places. Through his career he has shared the stage with Bert Jansch, Ron Sexsmith, Sharon Shannon, Paul Brady, Billy Bragg, John Martyn, Donovan, Shane MacGowan, plus celebrated Irish author Paul Durcan. He was nominated for Best New Irish Act in the 2004 Meteor Music Awards and voted no.8 in the Trad/Folk section of the Annual Hot Press Awards 2005. Colour Me Colourful (N4 Records 2007) Roesy has a second career as a vivid, provocative painter. This album applies the same colourful vision to his music, with often masterful effect 8/10 (Hot Press) Its got an edge that will lodge him comfortably apart from the mainstream 3/5 (The Irish Times) Roesys glass half full meditations tug at the heart and leave a warm glow in the brain, like any number of gentle early 70s songwriters 3/5 (RTE Guide)
