POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Noise Details: "There is nothing laughable about the level of creativity put forth in the band's latest release 'Irritant Is Irritating.'" Jer Cole @ Knoxville News Sentinel. "Delve into the back catalog of any of today's popular indie bands and you're likely to find an earlier, slightly sloppier version of their work on a dusty and endearing homemade EP. Mister Grits five-song debut could wind up as one of those records." Bill Colrus @ The Pulse. "A web of cryptic lyrics spat out over fuzz laden instruments might be nothing new, but the sincerity is relieving. Mister Grits juggles the abstract but has the ability to make it all visible." Thomas Martin @ The Enigma. "I know that Grits were mixing it down and listening to those breakdowns and thinking, 'That shit is bad-ass,' because it really is. [...] Really about as cool as music gets when it's made by people who (probably) don't smoke weed." Spoot @ BOG-GOB.
