Lee Cusenbary, Jr. Music and Arrangements by Philip Close For the first time in Englands glorious history, the country is close to financial ruin due to the unwise spending and religious wars of King Charles I. Englands elected Parliament secretly conspires to end Englands monarchy by arresting King Charles for treason. King Charles sixteen year old daughter, Elizabeth, is thrust into Englands political struggle when her hand in marriage is promised to Prince Afonso VI of Portugal as a political favor. Elizabeth refuses to marry Afonso because she is in love with Will Dobson. Will is a member of the House of Commons, and unwillingly must take part in deciding her fathers fate. Despite efforts of Elizabeth and Will, and the guidance of ghosts of past monarchs, the Kings lack of repentance leads to his destruction by public beheading. With the monarchy destroyed, Will and Elizabeth can be together without fear, and the people of England embark on new lives without a King. (Lament is based in large part on the actual individuals, transcripts and events leading to the beheading of King Charles I in 1648).
