An enthusiastic, eclectic sound, with ties to Central Europe, with more of an Americanized folk sound. 18 MP3 Songs WORLD: Polka, FOLK: Traditional Folk Details: "The new kid in town" Johnny Koenig, a young star accordion player in the polka field, moved to Cleveland in 2006 to focus on his music. The style that Johnny plays is Americanized folk music based with roots in Europe. This style of music appeals to all ages and a broad audience. Born and raised in New York City, Johnny grew up with polkas, first learning from his father who had his own band for many years. This is where Johnny first learned accordion. He picked up his first accordion at age five, and took private lessons from a local music teacher for a few years. Johnny, only seven years old at the time, had the honor of singing with America's Polka King Frankie Yankovic at an event in New York City. He began performing professionally at age fifteen. During his years in high school, he played trumpet in the school's concert band. Already in his short career, he has made guest appearances with Canada's Polka King Walter Ostanek, Joey Miskulin, Bob Kravos, Fred Ziwich, just to name a few. Johnny released his first professional recording in February 2007 entitled "The New Kid In Town". It features some special guests including Joey Miskulin, Walter Ostanek, Bob Kravos, Fred Ziwich, Jerry Intihar, and many others. Johnny, who enjoys playing for all types of crowds, is currently working on advancing his career in music. In 2007, he produced and arranged the music for VerbBallet's "Polka Madness" dance repertoire. Johnny, with all the passion he has for his beloved music, is doing his best to take his music to the next level. He is exposing his music in all different venues and rapidly expanding his fan base. People who are interested in Frankie Yankovic and His Yanks Walter Ostanek should consider this download.
