Details: UFM is one of the best instrumental funk bands to hit the San Francisco scene in the last few years. This band was born out of a great love for pure, raw, Old School Funk. Their mission is to fill peoples souls with the groove - and make them move. Influences stem from such funky forefathers as Herbie Hancock, Grant Green, The Meters, The JB Horns, Booker T. and the MGs, and many more rare groovers. UFM serves up an original brand of driving horn funk. Their grooves will magnetize people to the dance floor, and keep them movin' until the last funky beat! UFM's debut CD, "CrossContagulation" hit the scene August 25th, 2002, and is filled with twelve tracks of original funk. Featuring special guests, San Francisco's finest brass band, Brass Monkey Brass Band on "Uptown." UFM is Scott Woods guitar, Eamonn Flynn, Hammond Organ (The Commitments, Annie Sampson Band), Andy Birchett, bass, Darius Minaee, drums, and a rotating group of some of San Francisco's finest horns such as Mike Rinta, trombone (Brass Monkey), Tom Fuglestad, trumpet (Annie Sampson Band), Alex Budman saxophones (Contemporary Jazz Orchestra), Joel Behrman trumpet and trombone (Brass Monkey)
