Details: Bain Ennis has made a name for himself over the years as an Ambassador of original North Texas Music; picking and singing his unique brand of tunes across the globe, from Kerrville Campfires, and honky tonks all over Texas, to DC, Boston, Amsterdam, Osaka, Tbilisi, and beyond. As a founding member of Shermans legendary Tone Deaf Cowboys, then, through his partnership with Ft. Worths Ed Rogers, Matthew Williams (Blarney Brothers, Chuck Rainey Trio, Soul Kitchen), Rodger Harrison (Blarney Brothers, Free Whiski) and Patrick Brooks, formed the Gypsy Troubadours. Enniss songs were at the core of the success of these bands, and were key to sparking the Yall-ternative movement in North Texas music scene. Ennis recently slowed down long enough to record his debut solo CD; Rough Cuts of Basics in Boston. The project has already received much praise for its sublime quality and cross-genre appeal. Williams and Harrison support him on the tracks, as-well-as Tone Deaf Cowboys collaborator Larry Martin (to name a few)
