Crec con mi Bis Abuela descendiente de mayas. Ella me enseo que el amor todo lo da y que nunca deja de ser. Fue feliz porque siempre dio sin esperara recibir. Su alegria estaba en darse a los dems. Debido a los problemas poltico-militares mi madre nos llevo a vivir a Costa Rica en 1979 donde crec desde la primaria hasta la universidad. En fin para que esta grabacin llegara a tus manos he tenido que esperar bastante tiempo en el cual he amado este arte que no eleg, es el arte el que me am y me puso en estas circunstancias; por eso tuve que tocar en las calles, buses, cantinas, fiestas y mas recientemente una banqueta publica en Venice Beach. Este CD no es un parmetro para encasillarme en una idea o un libro de canciones e historias con una sola idea; porque soy de los que teme a los hombres que juzgan el mundo y las cosas por la lectura de un solo libro. Es creo, un carnaval de tristezas y alegras, un va crucis por Centro Amrica y Norte Amrica. Es una locura universal. ENGLISH Introduction Dont lose the truth in the dirty waters of religion and politics, or leave it hidden in the chambers of darkness, because the truth is a light for all and you can find it in yourself, if you open the windows of liberty. scubda I was born in 1965 in Nejapa, a little town north-east of the Salvadorian capital. I grew up with my great-grandmother, a descendant of the Maya. She taught me that everything gives love and never stops existing. She was happy because she always gave without expecting anything in return; her joy was based in giving to others. Due to political-military problems, my mother took us to live in Costa Rica in 1979, where I lived between first grade and college. In the end Ive had to wait a long time for this recording to reach your hands, during which Ive loved this art that I did not choose; the art loved me and put me in these circumstances. This is why Ive had to play on the streets, in buses, in bars, at parties, and most recently at a public banquet in Venice Beach. This album is not a framework to pigeonhole me in a single idea or a book of songs and stories around a single idea, because Im one of those who fears the men who judge the world and everything in it from reading a single book. I mean, it is a carnival of sorrow and joys, a path of suffering through Central America and North America. Its a universal insanity. I hope you like it.
