Details: I come from a musical family and have always been surrounded by music. I started singing in chapel where my mother played the piano. I think my love of harmony came from there. I used to practise singing along with the different parts every Sunday. That's where I learned the Welsh hymn "Calon Lan" (which is the last song on my album.) I wanted to record it as I used to sing it in chapel. I managed to coax my mother into the studio to play the piano and on the last chorus she even sings with me, along with my daughter. When I was 11 years old, my parents bought me a guitar and over the years we've had some very happy times together! I finished singing professionally when I was 21. A few years ago I decided to record some of my favourite songs, so I went back into the studio (which I had really missed) and recorded just 3 songs, then later on a few more, until eventually I had enough for an album, which was only intended for family and friends, but I've been persuaded to release it for anyone to buy. One of my dreams is to sing the theme song to a film. So if anyone out there has any contacts please get in touch!! I hope you enjoy listening to my music as much as I enjoyed making it. Janet.
