Details: River of Fire is the seventh release from the duo, Acoustic Eidolon. With Hannah Alkire on cello and Joe Scott on his custom 14-string guitjos and acoustic guitars, River of Fire is a combination of gypsy, flamenco and world influences, filled with passion and strong, emotional melodies. This CD draws inspiration from their many travels, including recent trips to Spain. Included are fan favorites such as Stairway to Heaven, Baby Sings the Blues (finally!), House of Memories, River of Fire, and Looking for a River. Acoustic Eidolon is one of the most exciting new sounds on the music scene today, blending Celtic and Gypsy flavors into strongly melodic and emotional music. Their live shows captivate audiences throughout the US and abroad with their extensive touring, and their recordings are featured on NPR, Woodsongs Olde Time Radio Hour, and several television specials. Their music is lively and evocative, and encompasses their own life experiences to result in a riveting and deeply resonant audience experience. Swallow Hill Music in Denver describes them as, an evening of brilliant instrumentality!
