Native American flute combined with orchestra and piano creating contemporary yet traditional sounds. 18 MP3 Songs WORLD: Native American, NEW AGE: Meditation Details: Performing and writing since age 12, now 25 year old Brad Clonch is releasing his anticipated full length cross cultured Native Album "Finding Windsong". As a 2002 NAMMY (Native American Music Award) nominee with this second album "Midnight", Brad was determined to explore the mystery of the native flute, and combine the traditional sounds of his Native American culture with his contemporary modern sound of string orchestrations and piano. Brad has won numerous ADDY Awards for production pieces ranging from choreographed dance performances, to Radio and Television PSA's. In past years, he has taken part in numerous tribal leadership camps, culture camps, and has been a guest speaker through out the state of Oklahoma speaking to native youth on issues involving education, aspirations, culture, and identity to name a few. Previous works include: "WITHOUT YOU" (1999) Brad Clonch (Piano) "MIDNIGHT" (2002) Brad Clonch (Piano, Orchestrations, Guitar) "FINDING WINDSONG" (2006) Brad Clonch (Native Album) "Music is a cultural journey through finding a native sound to who you are. In this album, I explored the instruments of my culture, people, and tradition and combined those with what I have learned through mainstream music form. I hope to send a unique listening experience that takes the listener to a new place that is stimulating and relaxing."---Brad Clonch (Mississippi Choctaw with Chickasaw Influences!)
