Three eclectic individuals, who utilize "freedom of speech" as an instrument of life, freedom, and teachings. Brooknology reaches out to the world bringing inspiration, progression, and hope for others. Miss Genesis Slams- The Poetic One- brings her poetic style. Using her passion for poetry and drawing from lessons learned between the basketball courts double dutch ropes, Genesis Slams, born Genesis T. Frederick, has never been formally trained. She utilizes her drive and hunger fuel her for every performance. Her Southern Black style is like no other and stands as a bridge between hip hop issues, family struggles and social concerns. Brooklyn bred, Eddie Caine- The Original- rhymes tend to be strange, but yet strangely delicious. Beat maker extraordinaire...in his words, "Beats come like water." Eddie Caine has no rules, but a strong vision (no pun intended). He produces heat, and presents art in the wierdest form fashion. Mental Vision- The Magnificent- not only reveals truth, but passion as well. MV's incredible word play allows him to disassemble any instrumental that crosses his path. Mental-Vision stems from Flatbush, Brooklyn. He wants the masses to always remember, "Without vision, the people shall perish." Together the trio has managed to stir up a plan that will shake the world. They managed to put together their Brooknology: Vol.1 during the month of February. Now they present it to you.... You are now tuned in..... BROOKNOLOGY !!!
