Glitchy, broken-beat, experimental electronic music which is sometimes cinematic in scope. 16 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, ELECTRONIC: Down Tempo Details: ABOUT FATELESS FLOWS

The largest community of experimental electronic music composers in Los Angeles, the Fateless Flows Collective was founded in 2001 to promote new forms of electronic music on the West Coast and serve as a central hub for the Los Angeles experimental electronic music scene. Fateless Flows comprises signed and unsigned artists encompassing a range of musical backgrounds and styles, with the common goal of exploring the interface between music and technology. Members of the collective collaborate to produce groundbreaking compilations and live events. The music of Fateless Flows artists can be found worldwide online and in stores. Tracks by collective members have been heard on radio stations across the country and around the world, from the West Coast to Siberia. Live events and artists have been hosted at major music venues, art institutions, and festivals in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Austin, Miami, and New York City.
