Details: Jenna Greene is a Celtic singer-songwriter, a weaver of myth and magic. She began her musical journey as a soloist at her familys church in Abington, MA at the age of 10. She always felt that spiritual music brought her peace and wholeness. At the age of 16, she began studying earth religions. It wasnt long before mythic themes, faeries and nature were woven into her songs. These new songs took on a life of their own. Listeners described them as healing. Sound healing soon became Jennas great passion and she set out to study sound masters techniques and develop her own. Her workshop Give Peace a Chant calls upon the powers of music, chant, nature, spirit, voice, rhythm and laughter to manifest positive change. Singing for a live audience is another thing Jenna is passionate about. She has traveled all over New England performing her own songs as well as haunting Celtic favorites. Finding hope and following dreams are common themes in her music. She muses, My biggest dream is for my songs to uplift the listener and help them to find magic in themselves. That is why I make music. Her debut CD Crossroads will be released soon. It is a collection of original songs inspired by the ancient Celts, nature, faeries, dreams and the works of Joseph Campbell. Jenna currently lives on an organic farm in Northwest Rhode Island with her sound healing, music managing, sound and light engineering husband, Doug and their faerie child, Sairys. Her ethereal music is inspired by Celtic lore and nature myth. She believes both nature and music are powerful healers. Fused together, her music will take you on a journey to sacred groves, standing stones and places of beauty within yourself. Booking for sound healing and chanting
