"Originally from Glasgow, Lucinda Sieger took the scenic route to her solo career, forming bands with members of electro hooligans Leftfield in the mid Eighties, coming runner up in the Alternative Miss World competition, and singing on the first ever Top Of The Pops to be transmitted live in 1991. That was with one hit wonders Congress on a dance tune miles removed from this sensitive and sophisticated collection of songs, ranging from the bossa nova jazz inflections of Adore to the introspective acoustic strummings of the title track. Hollywood is the stand out, upping the tempo and the ante, and this is worthy of a wider audience." Colin Somerville International singer-songwriter Lucinda Sieger first achieved commercial success with UK number one dance track 40 Miles (Congress), on which she supplied the alluring vocals. Lucindas crystalline voice has since spawned musical liaisons with many successful artists including members of Leftfield, Massive Attack and Bronski Beat. Acoustic tracks, Now here we are and Silver Life are co-written with gifted guitarist Reid Savage (Way of the West).
