_____ THE FROG SONG BLUES /

Lyrics Sometimes I wonder how life would be, if we were two frogs living happily. Life would be simple, no telephone bills, no greasy fried food, no vitamin pills, My heart would throb if I were your frog... If I were your frog, and you were my mate, We'd paint the town green, our very first date. We'd set in the meadow, I gaze in your eyes, when dinner-time comes, we'd swallow some flies... We'd be so love-crazy, that people would stare, while hopping the freeway, in pink underwear. When shadows fall, and daylight is through, I'll make little tadpoles, my Lily with you... My heart would throb if I were your frog
