Somewhere in the middle of the fuzz-laden urgency of punk rock and the lazy Sunday jangle of a classic country song. 10 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Rock, ROCK: Roots Rock Details: Armed with songs about girls, liquor, Pennsylvania, and the ghosts of regret, Holidaysburg is the guy sitting next to you at the bar who either won't shut up or wants you to shut up, but is there for you nonetheless; the broken-hearted echo of days when sleeves were readily adorned with hearts and hands with near-empty bottles, while the wearer of both sat quietly for just one song to grace the jukebox that would give him good reason to rid himself of one or the other. Rob Weddle (voice/guitar), Larry Fulford (drums), Josh Henson (guitar), and Jed Johnson (bass) have stumbled around the block in a number of bands since their teens. With Holidaysburg, the four have met somewhere in the middle of the fuzz-laden urgency of punk rock and the lazy Sunday jangle of classic country music. This summer the band releases its debut record, "A Better November," a ten-song chronicle of good times and hindsight, low flying planes and powerlines, friends in cold places, and Jesus.
