A unique collaboration immersing listeners in a sensuous mix of colours, ideas and cultural influences. Morag Northey and Brent Van Dusen traverse inspired landscapes, which draw from an eclectic fusion of classical, jazz, folk, pop and world music. 14 MP3 Songs in this album (60:37) ! Related styles: FOLK: Folk-Jazz, FOLK: Progressive Folk People who are interested in Annie Lennox Joni Mitchell Leonard Cohen should consider this download. Details: An indie debut album co-created by Calgary cellist/singer/songwriter Morag Northey and jazz percussionist/ factotum Brent Van Dusen (with more than a little input from another prominent and very talented Calgary multi-instrumentalist, Jonathan Lewis) covers some pretty striking, stylistically diverse musical territory. Everything from sad tango and moody Chinoiserie to country charm with a Parisian flair -- and all in the name of love. And if many of Northey's songs strike a reminiscent pose or two (Laurie Anderson and Joni Mitchell come to mind at times), they wear such influences very well indeed -- thanks to the subtle inventiveness of imagination of everyone involved in this CD project. Each song renders a precise though haunting world of emotion, and all the worlds connect in a way that puts you in mind of taking a journey--and leaves you feeling glad you did.
