Raised by his ambitious, single mother, Relentless found his decisions lead him to a lifestyle that was similar to some of the lyrics from one of his favorite rap group; N.W.A. He frequently ran into trouble with the law and was incarcerated 4 days before his high school graduation ceremony and celebration.

Blessed with a short jail sentence but now a convicted felon, Relentless was determined not to be another Black Male Statistic. Upon his release from jail, Relentless changed his angle of making money and remained focus on making a legit living. He began working for various multi-million dollar computer companies and soon, this non-college graduate, found himself traveling first class for business trips overseas. But life in the semi-conductor world was unfulfilling for Relentless. Music was his true calling.

With the aide of a childhood friend, Relentless formed a Record Label called Awakened 4Life Records. He spent endless days writing lyrics, over melodic beats and honing his skills as an emcee. Eventually, all of his hard work and relentless determination paid off. Originally starting with the rap name I.N.LANTE, Relentless has performed with such artist as 2-Short, R.B.L., FRONTLINE. He has released a mix-tape entitled "Awakened 4 Life Vol. 1" and just completed his first full-length album entitled "Yall Not Ready".

As of now, he has officially changed to a name which truly represents him; "RELENTLESS. It is not a name of choice. Relentless is a name he has earned and is warranted for him to claim the top hip-hop spot which is being reserved for him.
