Intelligent, lyric and melody-driven indie pop. Politically and socially aware, with a refreshing sense of contagious optimism. 5 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, POP: California Pop Details: Von Robinson His Own Universe (VR&HOU) truly has created a universe of its own with a refreshing sense of contagious optimism inherent in the work. Robinson has pegged a sound that has more Beatles, Elvis Costello, Elliott Smith sensibility than one should dare to shake a stick at, and whooped it into a Elephant 6 Collective modernity. At the heart of it all, the lyrics add more valor to his body of work than many of his predecessors managed to achieve. On first listen, your eyes widen and a grin turns up the corners of your mouth. From the next listen on, Von Robinson's own universe becomes one that welcomes the audience into intelligent, lyric and melody-driven bliss. With a background and career in design Robinson is the cornerstone of the group, with a rotating cast of backing musicians that share in his musical vision. Given the political climate and eagerness of the public to discover the subversive next big thing, Jostle It!# is a much-needed breath of optimism.
