If Erik Satie or George Gershwin were alive writing in today's world, the music might be something like what Bettie writes. Her music is a kind of "serious music" diving headlong into popular music, mixed with intelligence a dash of improvisation 12 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Contemporary, POP: Piano Details: This CD openly and joyously presents the musical expression of a very alive and musically well-trained woman living in modern times. This is Bettie's first recording for Alternative Classical Records. The work breathes with the life and expression of a Magical Time of Year. Here is what Bettie had to say about her inspiration for writing this music: The end of fall and the beginning of winter are filled with beautiful landscapes of the changing weather: the leafless trees, rain, snow, fog, mists and ice there are family gatherings visits with friends reflections on life and looking ahead to the new year just starting. For me, these things create a Magical Time of Year. Ten of the CD's 12 tracks are piano solo. On two of the tracks, Winter Solstice and Serenade for a Beloved Being, Bettie is joined by guitarist Frank Blumer. Sheet Music available this coming week: At bettierossthere.com there will be sheet music available for December, Merrymaking, Elfin Folly, Evergreen Forest, Child's Wonder, and Joy (written for 4 hands, 2 persons, 1 piano). Sheet music of the basic themes (not including the improvisation) of Reflection, Winter Solstice, Candle Dance, and Serenade for a Beloved Being will be also available at bettieross.com. Northern Lights and This New Year are fully improvised, so no sheet music will be available.
